To Whom it May Concern:

Tate Williams is the type of leader that every program is looking for. Tate shows leadership skills in self-discipline, coachability, work ethic and commitment. As long as I have had the pleasure to know and coach Tate, I have seen continuous growth in his baseball abilities as well as his leadership abilities. Tate is not a player to settle just being “good enough”, his worth ethic and desire too improve will allow him to continue to push himself and teammates daily.

Tate has a well-established work ethic and moral code that serve him well and make him a respected person in the Tucson Baseball Community. Tate shows pillars of good character; he is trustworthy, respectful, fair, and giving. These are evidenced in the relationships he has with peers, and coaches alike. Tate has maintained positive friendships with the same people since he was in elementary school, that now range over multiple schools.

In the classroom Tate strives for success daily. He has an above average GPA and is a student to look up too. Teachers and peers look too Tate for positive leadership inside and outside of the classroom and he does not disappoint.

Thank you for your time,
